

Inspiration: David Hockney

The art of Spring 17

A must-visit retrospective of British artist David Hockney's 60 year career is currently on show at Tate Britain and if you cast your eye on fashion from the same period, you'll appreciate just how influential his work is. Characterised by dramatic colour, provocative lines and endless technique experimentation, the 79 year-old has dabbled in multiple mediums including painting, photography and ipad drawing. Hockney himself is also quite the dandy, by certain accounts, partial to a pattern and an expert in colour-blocking. Here we highlight the Hockney-isms we've spotted from our designers this season.

Roksanda's compelling palette

Winter Timber, 2009

Ambreen Dress

SHOP NOW >

Silk Cassidy Dress

SHOP NOW >

Godetia, 1973

Preen by Thornton Bregazzi's
bewitching aura

Some Neat Cushions, 1967

Marco De Vincenzo's
trailblazing craftsmanship

Tape Fringed Top
SHOP NOW >

Apron Wrap Dress
SHOP NOW >

Picture of a Hollywood Swimming Pool, 1964

Rosetta Getty's
magnetic minimalism

Haider Ackermann's sportif stripes

The Red Chair , 1986

Silk Bomber Jacket
SHOP NOW >

Saks Potts' painterly print

Floral Pussybow Dress
SHOP NOW >

30 Sunflowers, 1996